

Monday, April 13, 2015

Dear Yashvardhan Gusani,

Congratulations on your acceptance to the 2015 Harvard Project for Asian and International Relations (HPAIR) Asia Conference! This year's Asia Conference will be the largest HPAIR Conference yet with over 500 talented students from top-tier institutions gathering in Manila and will last from August 20, 2015 to August 24, 2015. The pool of applicants that we received this year was exceptionally strong. It is our pleasure to congratulate you on the quality of your application and we look forward to welcoming you to Manila in August.

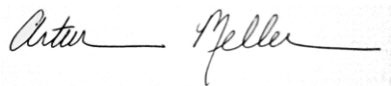

You have been selected to participate in the panel:

Energy and Sustainability

HPAIR is a partnership between the students and faculty of Harvard University, offering a sustained academic program and a forum of exchange to facilitate discussion of the most important economic, political, and social issues relevant to the Asia-Pacific region. Past speakers at our conferences include former President of the Republic of Korea and Nobel Peace Prize Laureate Kim Dae-Jung, Governor General of Australia Peter Hollingworth, Secretary General of the United Nations Ban Ki-moon, President of Singapore S.R. Nathan, and former President of Goldman Sachs Philip Murphy.

Over the years, HPAIR's international conferences have emerged as Harvard University's largest annual events in the Asia-Pacific region, welcoming a wide variety of distinguished speakers and future leaders. With the conference theme Confronting Asia's Development Challenges Through Innovation, HPAIR believes that finding common ground in Asian-Pacific economic, political, and social issues is a dynamic and innovative process. Only through active participation of highly qualified delegates like you can this process be realized.

We congratulate you again on being successfully selected through a competitive process to attend this conference, and we hope to see you in Manila this August. In the meantime, if you have any questions or suggestions, please feel free to contact aconf-help@hpair.org.

Yours sincerely,

Artur Meller
Executive Director, Asia Conference
Harvard Project for Asian and International Relations